Sharon Speake receiving training at Cardiff event LCA to go:PV

Sharon Speake is the customer service manager of renewable energy wholesaler Dulas MHH. Established in 1982, the Wales based Dulas MHH have developed a speciality in consulting and installing solar, wind and hydro energy systems. Having a global reputation, they have worked on numerous projects across Europe, Africa, South America and Asia with both public and commercial sector clients.

With no previous experience in LCA, Sharon attended the launch event of LCA to go: PV in Cardiff, hosted by project partner Ecodesign Centre, to further her knowledge. Dulas MHH clients consider the environmental impact of their systems to be quite important. However, cost, product quality and long term financial returns play the largest roles in their decision making process.

While using the tool Sharon was very satisfied by the tool's intuitive workflow and it's easy to understand series of questions. She was also impressed by the clarity of the results at the end of the analysis commenting on how she would feel comfortable to use the tool again without help.

Sharon said: "I've found that there is good potential in the tool for linking LCA with a solar system in development, and potential to provide the results of the analysis to the customers."
